Summer 2000

This was a good season for the Junior boys despite all of their cancellations. The boys worked hard all season and did their best. It was frustrating with all of the setbacks, but they handled it quite well. Our season consisted of four wins and two losses. In the Mid Islands, we won one and lost one game. Over all it was an amazing team effort. We would like to commend Mr. Williams for his time and dedication to the team. And to Ms. Smith, thank you for pushing us to do our best and for being there to help us when we were down. The boys showed great spirit and are looking towards a promising season next year. Good luck.

It was a great pleasure to be a part of such a great group of people this year. During the last four years that I've played golf at Shawnigan, I don't think we've ever had such a talented group. The competitive team of Sterling, Peter, Sean, and Jordan played exceptionally as Shawnigan qualified for the Island Championships for the first time. Unfortunately we missed qualifying for the Provincials by a few shots.

We had many highlights, especially our trip to Mount Washington and Campbell River. With such a young core of players I'm confident that with the aid of Gordy's instruction, Mr. Connolly's pep talks, and Mr. Fraser's ability to get us out of class, next years team can only improve. Although tournament and competition play are a large part of our program, there is also a component of recreational play and skill development. As mentioned, we have had a unique group and each person brought various attributes. I would be remiss if I didn't mention our, "mob squad," including our truly hard-core golfers Russell, Matt, Gair, Nathan and Alison, when she felt like coming. The number of girls increased with the addition of Christina and Julie. I'm sure this will only entice Mike Evans to stay with the program. I would like to thank Mr. Fraser, Mr. Connolly, and Mr. Noble for guiding the golf program at Shawnigan. Since my Grade 9 year it has nearly doubled in size and each year we are more skilled, competitive and successful. I'm confident that the program will continue to grow and succeed in the years ahead. I would also like to express my best wishes to Peter Kemp in regards to his LPGA career.

—Omar Mawjee

Although it is not the marquee sport in school, nor the most followed, competitive tennis at Shawnigan continues to surpass all expectations and succeed. Equipped with strong veterans of the tennis program and the aid of newly-arrived prospects, the team came together to seek a common goal, a provincial placement. This year's squad was one of the most able and talented teams in years. With the superb tactical coaching of Shawnigan tennis veteran, Mr. Candelaria, and the technical expertise of the newly acquired Mr. Morrow, the senior competitive group finished second on the Island and earned its place in the provincial championships. We went on and achieved second place, losing a tight final round to a very strong Brentwood team. Enormous gratitude is due to our fine coaches for all the time and energy they exerted for the team and the program. So, on behalf of the entire team, thank you. This season will be remembered for its ridiculous humour, courtesy of newly arrived Patrick Rhinehart and the awkwardness of Mr. Candelaria's extra comments. We would like to wish the remaining members of the team good luck in the future. The team promises to be very capable for years to come.

The Meaning of Tennis

Tennis may seem like a sport involving a ball and a racquet. The point? To get the ball clear across the net before it bounces on the court more than once. Anyone could play the game known as tennis. This is not the case with the Shawnigan Lake Senior Tennis Team. A ball and a racquet are merely "utensils" in this game. Power, strength, endurance, stability, teamwork and technique are just a few of the qualities you need. Over the term, Shawnigan Lake has done extremely well in all these elements, and the can expect to reach a more superior level next year.

—Sarah Peters

This has proved to be a most successful season for the Junior Tennis programme. The popularity of the sport was clearly evident at the beginning of the term when large numbers signed up to play. The competitive group comprised a good mix of experienced players and new players with excellent potential. It was particularly encouraging to note the number of younger boys and girls who really improved their skills over a relative short period of time. Our major competition came at the Independent Schools' Tournament held in Vancouver this year. We entered two boys' team and one girls' team. The boys' "A" team, consisting of Sheridan Candelaria, Matt Kunzweiler, Davin Garg, Sean Buchanan and Jae-Young Kwon proved to be too strong for the opposition and were successful in finishing as Tournament Champions after defeating St. George's in the final. In spite of their inexperience the girls' team of Holly Wong, Hannah Davies, Dawn Ngai, Fiona Dalrymple, Corrine Woo and Natalie Hill) acquitted themselves very well and narrowly lost the final in a tie-breaker to Crofton. This depth of talent augurs well for the future of Shawnigan tennis.

The Senior Girls' Rugby team had an amazingly successful season. We kicked it off with our United Kingdom tour to Wales, Scotland and England. While we enjoyed playing rugby against some challenging women's sides I think that the experience brought the team closer and that's the most important aspect of rugby. On our return we played a number of games against Island teams and we were undefeated until Carson Graham came over from the Mainland. Our rivals down the road (Cowichan High) were quite surprised when we overwhelmed them for the first time in two years and we continued to dominate them all season. The Island Championships were held at Shawnigan this year and needless to say we beat Cowichan in the Final making us Island Champions. The performance and dedication by the players were outstanding. Our season was quickly coming to a close as we prepared for our last efforts as a team at the B.C. High School Championships, this year held at Semiahmoo High School in South Surrey. In our first game we played Abbotsford and we won, which led us to play Semiahmoo on the Thursday. After a gruelling and frustrating game we managed to come out on top and that meant we were to play Gleneagle High School, the defending champions. Gleneagle was clearly the better team but Shawnigan played with determination and courage. After their win Gleneagle later went on to win the tournament. We for 3rd and 4th place with none other than Cowichan. The girls played with their hearts and their pride and after the most intense game of the year for the players (probably the coaches as well) we came away with a well deserved win 17-10. We were very proud that Mikaela Reuban was selected to the President's XV.

The season was wonderful, but short and I know that the Grade 12's are leaving the team in good hands. Finally to the veterans of the squad: Thank you to Shannon who put in 110% and was one of the driving forces of the forwards pack. To Sylvia, you proved that you don't have to be big to play the game. To Sarah, thank you for keeping the backs together and for playing with such heart. Thank you to Jasmin for having that incredible speed and for her dedication to the team. The Juniors this year have shown great promise as they moved up the ranks towards the Senior team. Although they didn't have many games this season they were always willing to sub into some of the Senior games. A huge thank you to our coaches, Mr. Felix and Mr. Wyatt, you did an excellent job.

Rugby is the best sport in the world - or so Mr. Samuel will tell you, along with a huge smile! The season proved to be a brilliant one, full of many memorable moments that can be fondly looked back upon. The U.K./Ireland Tour granted the team countless good times and shared laughs. Of course, the exceptionally successful year came full of remarkable victories, namely Brentwood! The First XV showed courage and pride and represented the Black and Gold to their greatest potential. Special thanks to the inspiring Mr. Samuel and the very talented Mr. Patel for pouring their hearts and souls into the rugby program and players. On behalf of the team I would like to sincerely thank the entire school for their enthusiastic support. Best of luck to the boys next year and may Shawnigan reign supreme for years to come!

The year couldn't have started off better with our tour over to the UK. There, we played five really tough games against teams that have played all their lives. We came away with one win but the other games were narrow losses. We came back to Shawnigan with a great-looking team. We had some excellent games against SMU and Salt Spring but unfortunately, due to some injuries early in the season, we had some tough losses to good teams. The boys stepped up to the challenges before them and we performed quite well under the circumstances. Though there weren't many Grade 12's on the team this year, the Grade 11's showed strong leadership. The Grade 10's played extremely well and will be a good addition to the team next year. And where would we be without Jeremy's explosions in the scrums and the rucks and our dynamic wingers Spence and Nightmare? Despite the ups and downs of our season the Shawnigan 2nds had a great time playing whenever they stepped onto the field. We would also like to thank our coaches Mr. Hall, Mr. Samuel and Mr. Patel for all their time and effort. Oh yeah, whatever happened to our other coach, Mr. Burley? Good luck to the boys and I hope you have a really successful season next year.

The outdoors term has been exceptional! With a large variety of personalities and talents we have become a cohesive group capable of living in the B.C. rain for days on end. We have taken a variety of different courses throughout the last two and a half months. We are now certified in CPR, boat driving and we can communicate with radios legally. Mr. Yates and Ms. Woollven have taken us on two interesting trips where we saw spectacular views and encountered wildlife such as baby seals and whales. Thank you to them for making everything from challenge runs to kayak/canoe frisbee an integral and enjoyable part of the last term of this year! And to Charlie, thanks for all of those great stories

Who Would Have Thought

How did I get into rowing? Well its kind of a funny story. I started my summer sport in rec-tennis then I got put on the Wilberforce. After finishing my punishment on Wilber I was told I was not allowed to go into rec-tennis because I need a "structured" sport. So, I had to choose between Rowing and Rugby. I chose Rugby. There I went to two practices and decided it wasn't for me. I had no other choice than to go into Rowing. It's actually quite ironic though, 'cuz I was dreading going into it, but now I realize it's a lot of fun. All the people work together as a team. The regattas and even the dedication all make it a great sport. Rowing offers great opportunities; for example it can lead to College scholarships. I think that rowing will be my sport for years to come

Vive le français

Du 16 au 18 avril 2000, 27 élèves et 4 professeurs de français sont partis à l'Ile de Thetis pour le voyage d'immersion français. Nous sommes restés à un beau camp qui s'appelle Camp Columbia. Le but du voyage était de parler français autant que possible. Pendant 48 heures, on ne parlait que français. Il était difficile, mais tout le monde faisait un bon effort pour s'exprimer en français. Le premier soir, nous avons décoré en rouge, bleu et blanc la salle à manger où nous avons eu un grand repas français. De l'entrée au dessert, nous avons tout préparé nous-même, et il était très délicieux. Nous nous sommes amusés beaucoup dans les activités comme pictionary, chasse au trésor, Capturer le Drapeau, le volley, le baseball, le spectacle de marionnettes, etc. Grâce à Mme Leary, Mme Boulais, M. Detchon et M. Hyde-Lay, le voyage était un succès. Merci !

A Night Full of Wonders...

Ten Lessons for the Preservation of Wonder

1. Cherish innocence. Consider a child - a four-year-old, say - wandering in the woods behind his home when he happens across an infant animal - a bear cub, say, or a wolf pup. Separated from the constraints of their parents, both creatures may entertain the possibility of friendship. Watch the faces of children, then, for in their wonder you will observe your own fundamental innocence.
2. The real battles in life take place on the plains of your own heart. Many times, when you think you've found an enemy, you've simply found a metaphor - a face and a name in the physical world to represent issues of your own private world. If you work to find the wonder in your enemies, you may come to know yourself.
3. There is wonder in family - in their acceptance of our weaknesses and their belief and pride in our successes. Think, for example, of the family of the man who invented the bagpipes. He came back from his workshop and played them for his mom and dad and brothers and sisters, and they said, unbelievably, "It's perfect, Angus. Dunnae change a thing."
4. Pursue at least one harmless grail - a round of golf at par, say, or a flawlessly played song; twenty-five consecutive free throws, or a perfectly danced waltz, for even achievable grails remind us that beauty resides in the pursuit, and in the moments when you think, "Yes, this could be the day - when you're even par after 11 holes, or eight bars from heaven, you will exist, if only fleetingly, in a state of grace.
5. Know the irony of wonder as this: no amount of fame or wealth can purchase it, though fame and wealth may make you an object of wonder of others. Wonder is purchased with the trust of an open heart and an innocent eye.
6. If ever you take a long bus trip, you may have the choice between watching a movie and looking out the window. Look out the window. You can always rent the video later. But that particular canvas of light and landscape will never again fall beneath the brush of you and your journey at that particular moment. Sometimes, in your car, you will have a choice between music and silence. Now and again, choose silence, for silence makes room for your music, and you never know what songs the contemplative mind might sing. Nature hates a vacuum, and adolescence hates silence, but it is often in the stillness that the heart collides with revelation and the self emerges.
7. Be a sports fan, not a scores fan. If you are a scores fan, you may encourage in yourself the belief that it is acceptable to avoid all but the highlights of life, and wonder presents itself in the turn of the blade in the ice, the joy on the face of an athlete when he discovers that the will of his body has anticipated the command of his mind, and in the moment just prior to the highlight tape, when the athlete glimpses his opportunity to direct, for a single moment, the universe of the play.
8. If you have the opportunity, sooner or later, travel, for not only will you have cause to wonder at the rituals and traditions of other peoples and cultures, but you discover a new appreciation for this continent, where we still encourage the young to etch dreams upon their hearts and trace a life on top of them. The wonder is not that all dreams come true; the wonder exists in the freedom of the dream, for there are still places in this world where history and circumstance have conspired to constrain even the imagination.
9. Be part of an unselfish community that you believe in, can commit to, and will work to advance - a family, a institution, a cause, for there is wonder wherever people subordinate themselves to one of the eternal truths - beauty or love or justice or compassion or the preservation of the dignity of others.
10. One of the beauties of humanity is this: when we look up into the sky at night, we can see the stars as burning balls of gas millions of miles and millions of years away, and we can astonish ourselves with the loneliness of that. Or, as I told my lit class recently and promised I would say tonight, we can see the stars as holes torn in the darkness at the outskirts of the universe - through which the brilliant eyes of the angels watch - in wonder - as we make our way . . . in wonder.
